SUMMARY

I am a Full-Stack Software Engineer who loves working with React, JavaScript, and Ruby. I enjoy learning new technologies and collaborating with others by building and architecting greenfield projects, as well as upgrading and refactoring legacy code bases to improve maintainability - and where I have increased app performance by > 50%, and reduced feature development cycles by > 67% - I'm down for pair programming and hackathons. Otherwise, you can find me on the hiking or mountain biking trails.
